“ My sister Amy had such a big heart and believed deeply in the importance of family unity. She loved her many nieces and nephews as if they were her own children by spending as much time with them as she could.

I have a very funny memory of Amy that happened when she was at an impressionable and serious stage of her life (18-19 years old). Our parents loved to go to Bingo and some of us enjoyed going with them from time to time. We would often stop at Perkins for pie or a sandwich on the way home. Amy and I had decided to tag along this one time on a trip to Owatonna Bingo. It was late as we waited for our food to be served. Service was slow and everyone was tired and bored. Amy, who was always prepared for anything, pulled out a pack of gum from her purse, and offered a stick to everyone. I saw a package of bandaids in her opened purse, and grabbed them. I unwrapped one and placed it across my nostrils. Amy and my dad started to object, "thats not funny" she said. My mom joined in and put a bandaid across her glasses lens, I had to top that, so I taped my wad of gum to my chin. Mom and I were laughing loudly as we both were trying to outdo the other. Amy only grew more embarrassed, and dad more angry. Mom and I were having a great time trying to get them to laugh. The last bandaid was offered to Amy and she finally gave in and put a bandaid across her eye. She started laughing as dad sat there seething.

I love my little sister deeply and will miss her laughter and bear hugs.

“ Auntie Amy,
We love you dearly. You have touched so many lives with your kind, and loving soul. I remember our special lunches when I was a child that we would have. We would walk down to the lake and feed the ducks. You always knew what to say to make me feel better. This world will never be the same without you here. I know you are up in heaven with Nana and Grandma with no pain or sorrow, watching over us all. I love you more than words could ever say.

Love Always,

Ray
